CYCLE OF CATECHESIS. VICES AND VIRTUES. 12. PRUDENCE

Dear brothers and sisters, good morning!

We are devoting today's catechesis to the virtue of prudence. Along with justice, fortitude and temperance, it is one of the so-called cardinal virtues, which are not the exclusive prerogative of Christians, but rather belong to the heritage of ancient wisdom, in particular of the Greek philosophers. Therefore, one of the most interesting themes in the work of encounter and inculturation was precisely that of the virtues.

In medieval writings, the presentation of the virtues is not simply a list of the positive qualities of the soul. Returning to the classical authors in the light of Christian revelation, theologians imagined the septenary of virtues — three theological and four cardinal — as a sort of living organism, in which each virtue has a harmonious space to occupy. There are essential virtues and accessory virtues, like pillars, columns and capitals. Indeed, perhaps nothing better renders the idea of the harmony between man and his continual aspiration towards good than the architecture of a medieval cathedral.

So, let us begin with prudence. It is not the virtue of the timorous person, always hesitant about what action to take. No, this is a mistaken interpretation. It is not even merely caution. Granting primacy to prudence means that the action of man is in the hands of his intelligence and freedom. The prudent person is creative: he or she reasons, evaluates, tries to understand the complexity of reality and does not allow him or herself to be overwhelmed by emotions, idleness, pressures and illusions.

In a world dominated by appearances, by superficial thoughts, by the triviality of both good and bad, the ancient lesson of prudence deserves to be revived. Saint Thomas, in the wake of Aristotle, called it "recta ratio agibilium". It is the capacity to govern actions in order to direct them towards good; for this reason, it is dubbed the "coachman of the virtues". Prudent are those who are able to choose. As long as it remains on paper, life is always easy, but in the midst of the wind and waves of daily life it is another matter; often we are uncertain and do not know which way to go. The prudent do not choose at random: first of all, they know what they want, then they weigh the situation, seek advice, and with a broad outlook and inner freedom, they choose upon which path to embark. That is not to say they do not make mistakes: after all, we are all human; but at least they avoid major setbacks. Unfortunately, in every environment there is someone who tends to dismiss problems with superficial jokes, or to incite controversy. Prudence is instead the quality of those who are called to govern: they know that to administer is difficult, that there are many points of view and one must try to harmonize them, that one must do not the good of some but of all.

Prudence also teaches that, as they say, "the perfect is the enemy of the good".

Indeed, too much zeal in some situations can cause disasters: it can ruin a construction that would have needed gradualness; it can give rise to conflicts and misunderstandings; it can even trigger violence.

The prudent person knows how to safeguard the memory of the past, not out of fear for the future, but because he or she knows that tradition is a patrimony of wisdom. Life is made up of a constant overlapping of old and new things, and it is not good always to think that the world begins with us, that we have to deal with problems starting from scratch. And the prudent person is also far-sighted. Once one has decided on the goal to strive for, it is necessary to obtain all the means to reach it. Many passages from the Gospel help educate us in prudence. For example: prudent is the man who builds his house on the rock, and imprudent the one who builds his on sand (cf. Mt 7:24-27). Wise are the damsels who carry oil for their lamps and foolish those who do not (cf. Mt 25:1-13). The Christian life is a combination of simplicity and shrewdness. Preparing his disciples for the mission, Jesus says: "Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves; so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves" (Mt 10:16). As if to say that God does not only want us to be saints, he wants us to be intelligent saints, because without prudence it takes but a moment to make a wrong turn!

FAREWELL PARTY FOR FR. BARTEK

As you know, we are saddened with the news of Fr. Bartek leaving Holy Spirit Parish on June 26th. As a way of thanking him, wishing him God's blessing in his new responsibility, and bidding him farewell, there will be a Parish BBQ on Saturday, June 15 after 5 p.m. mass. Please bring your favorite salad or dessert to share with others. Thank you!

DEAR PARISHIONERS AND GROUPS:

In an effort to keep our Parish clean and organized there will be a group organizing closets and rooms on Saturday, June 1 starting at 10am. If you or your ministries have an interest in what is in these spaces please come and support and advice regarding what needs to be kept and stored, or what is no longer in use. We will be cleaning and disposing of things that are not useful. Parishioners will have an opportunity to take the items for one week ending on Sun, June 9, after that all items will be removed from the parish. As well, a final reminder that the parish is not the spot to drop unwanted items. If you drop items, someone has to determine if they are useful, and if not dispose of or organize them. Please bring items to local charities and not our parish rooms and closets. Thank you for your cooperation in keeping the parish neat and organized always.

MOVIE NIGHT – MAY 26TH @ 7PM

Our next movie night will be on Sunday, May 26th at 7pm. The movie title is – Langford. All are invited for the movie night in the parish hall.

We hope to teach pro-lifers how we can make a difference for pre-born babies here in Canada.

CORPUS CHRISTI-EUCHARISTIC PROCESSION-JUNE 2nd

A Eucharistic procession is a votive procession. It publicly and reverently honours the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist, which is the source and summit of our Christian life. It is a prolongation of the liturgy, during which the consecrated Host is carried in public allowing believers to "make public profession of faith and worship of the Most Blessed Sacrament." The Latin Church has formally celebrated the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (formerly Corpus Christi) since the year 1264. In the 16th and 17th centuries, public acts of piety and devotion to the Most Blessed Sacrament grew in response to challenges to the Real Presence.
